Peace In China
Pair Crosses Into Hong Kong

HONG KONG, Dec. 2 (AP)—Two wanted peace. Pate said, "I didn't find it there, and will now go back to lead a peaceful life with my family."

Wilson nodded in agreement. Thirty newsmen interviewed them in the lobby of the second-class hotel where they will stay until the Red Cross arranges to send them home.

At one point Wilson sought to cut off questions with the declaration: "I have said all I'm going to say. I just want to go home."

Concerning communism, Pate said, "If people want it they can have it."

Both said they were only workers and were given no lectures on communism.

"In fact, you can't consider me a worker because I was handicapped by the language," Pate volunteered. "In the paper factory in Tsinan—Shensi Province—where I was a third-grade lathe operator, the Chinese did most of the heavy work while I watched. At night I ran around and went to dances and movies, having a good time."

Indian Princess
Weds Paleface

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 2 (AP)—Far from her Oklahoma tribe, Creek Indian Princess White Rose today took a paleface husband and dubbed him Chief Mockingbird.

The 53-year-old bride, more generally known as Gertrude Moses of Los Angeles, said she is the daughter of Chief Greyhawk.

Entering the tribe and matrimony in what was described as an authentic Creek ceremony was 45-year-old Roy Potter, Los Angeles house painter.

Hillbilly entertainer William McGuire, who said he really is Creek Chief Wah-nee-ota, conducted the tribal rites beneath two Blackfoot scalps in his frame wigwam on E. 77th Pl.

"The scalps of our enemies who thought they had stronger medicine," explained feather-bonneted Wah-nee-ota.

After Wah-nee-ota got through making matrimonial medicine, the Rev. Marie Pearl Williams united Mrs. Moses and Potter in a more legal type of ceremony.

Hungarians,
Seeking Kin,
View Bodies

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Dec. 2 (AP)—Thousands of Hungarians trudged through snow flurries in Budapest's cemeteries today trying to find the bodies of relatives who disappeared during the revolution.

Hundreds of simple black wooden coffins were scattered in the yards of the big Rakoskeresztur Cemetery. Lids were open to enable people to look upon the dead.

More than 1,000 bodies have already been buried in this cemetery alone since the revolt began, an old gravedigger said. So far only those were buried which either were identified by relatives or whose identity could be determined by documents found on them.

Gravediggers are among Budapest's busiest people these days.

Now they are beginning to bury unidentified dead because they cannot wait much longer.

Most of the people studying the coffins today were middle-aged or elderly, with eyes red from weeping.

When the coffins stacked up in cemeteries now are disposed of, gravediggers must exhume and rebury those victims of the fighting who were temporarily buried in Budapest parks, near where they fell at the barricades fighting Russian tanks. These fighters were buried by relatives or friends during the fighting and their identity in most cases is known.

Eden's Aides
Face Bitter
Task Today

Egypt Withdrawal
Announcement May
Stir Political Row

LONDON, Dec. 2 (AP)—Ailing Prime Minister Eden's lieutenants face the bitter task tomorrow of breaking the news that British and French forces will pull out of Egypt.

The announcement is expected from Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd in the House of Commons. It could touch off a bitter political battle within the ranks of Eden's Conservative party and might endanger his chances of continuing much longer as prime minister.

Disillusionment Grows

The pullout decision—which informants say already has been made known to diplomatic circles—comes in response to pressure from the United Nations, the United States and some Commonwealth countries. The expectation is that Britain and France, the latter possibly somewhat more reluctantly, will try to get most of their forces out of the Suez Canal area before Christmas.

Lloyd's statement will come at a time of growing disillusionment about the Egyptian operation in Conservative party ranks and among the population at large—a disillusionment that has resulted in anti-American statements in Parliament and out. News that American oil was on the way seems to have brought a better climate of feeling toward the United States.

Eden Under Fire

Gasoline shortages, short-time working in some industrial plants and continued criticism of Eden's policies by the Labor opposition, have built up the impression that British and French military intervention in Egypt was a major blunder that produced few concrete gains and heavy diplomatic and financial losses.

The Sunday Observer—critic of Eden's policy—said editorially it was necessary for the government to cut its losses and try to clean up the wreckage. It added that, "Confidence in Britain cannot be restored without some changes in government." Eden was not mentioned by name, but the implication was obvious.

Shooting Heard
By U.N. Police

U. N. OCCUPATION ZONE, Egypt, Dec. 2 (AP)—Two loud explosions and random shooting in the Egyptian sector early today intrigued Danish infantrymen assigned as U. N. police troops to guard the cease-fire on the Suez Canal. Nobody was hit.

The Danes were spending their second night in the buffer zone they established Friday between the Egyptians and the British-French forces near Qantara, 24 miles south of Port Said, preparatory to handing it over to Indian infantrymen today.

Maj. Niels Larsen, the Danish commander, said the shooting seemed to be within the Egyptian lines, but several bullets sang high over the heads of his men.

British officers to the north reported the Egyptians opened fire four times with light machine guns and rifles, but dismissed it as probably "just another case of Egyptian jitters."

Runaway Car Takes Girl,
Brother For Wild Ride

WINDSOR, Conn., Dec. 2 (AP)—Seventeen-year-old Cynthia Moran set out today in the family car to drive her 14-year-old brother David to church. They never got there.

Here's what police said happened:

About a mile from home the engine started racing madly. Cynthia put on the footbrake, then the hand brake, but the car continued to pick up speed.

She came to the top of Broad St. just before 10 a.m., and the car began to race the six blocks downhill toward the center of town—(pop. 12,000.)

At the bottom of the hill Cynthia saw some 40 churchgoers about to cross the street. Patrolman Robert Christensen stood in the street directing traffic.

She turned off the ignition on the car, but the engine still roared. While she was racing down the hill she tried to fight the shift lever into neutral but it wouldn't go.

So she drove the car up on the esplanade, straddling it, and roared down the middle of the boulevard, the horn blaring, toward the crowded intersection, picking up speed all the time.

Christensen shouted for the people to get back, then jumped himself.

He estimated the car was doing between 70 and 75 m.p.h. when it went through the intersection.

Just then Cynthia managed to jam the gears into reverse.

The car spun around, jumped over the esplanade backwards, and hit an oncoming car head-on.

Cynthia and her brother, shaking, got out, as did the other driver, Albert Turgeon, 67, another churchgoer.

The motor of Cynthia's car was still racing and its rear bumper was hooked with the front bumper of Turgeon's car.

Suddenly, both empty cars, locked together, started to move.

They wheeled backwards in a circle, bouncing over the esplanade, going in one lane and then the other, at a speed of 20 to 25 miles an hour.

Patrolman Christensen ran along beside them, and after they went by him five or six times (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Manhunt Ends With
One Gunman Killed
And Other Captured

SHAMROCK, Tex., Dec. 2 (AP)—A posse captured a trigger-happy gunman today crouching beside the slug-torn body of his half-brother, whom he said he shot by mistake. The capture came after an all-night manhunt for the pair in this Oklahoma-Texas border area.

The pair earlier killed a rancher's teen-age son, who was a posseman, and wounded two officers in blazing gunfights.

Officers named the slain gunman as Junior Bard Myers, 32, with numerous aliases, including Robert Earl Hunter and Robert Myers. He was from Greeley, Colo., and had a long arrest record in the Southwest and on the West Coast.

The captured gunman gave the name of James William Whiteard, 21, Phoenix, Ariz. Officers said he apparently had no record but also went under the name of James Hunter.

Killed yesterday at dusk while hunting for the pair was Victor Lee Stephens, 19, son of a ranch owner on whose place the shooting occurred during a gun battle.

Texas Ranger Jim Paulk said Whiteard had signed a statement, saying he shot Myers during the night in the belief he was firing at an officer after the two fugitives became separated in the darkness. Whiteard said he blasted away with a sawed-off shotgun at a figure he saw in the brush and stayed where he was until officers found him today.

He denied knowing anything about the shooting of Stephens.

The two were trapped during the night in a 1,200-acre area of scrubby brush, called "shinnery" in the Southwest. It was at that time that young Stephens was slain.

Officers decided to wait until daylight to hunt the dangerous pair. At that time, possemen assumed both were living.

The climax came just after sunrise when five officers on horseback crashed through the dense brush to come on the fugitives' camp.

Whiteard was sitting up, dozing an empty whisky bottle nearby.

Myers was about 30 yards away, his body torn by shotgun slugs.

7 Injured By Bomb
Exploded In Theater

NEW YORK, Dec. 2 (AP)—A homemade bomb exploded tonight in the rear of a crowded Brooklyn movie theater, injuring seven persons.

Police said two of the injured received head wounds and another a leg wound. The four others suffered shock. All were taken to a hospital.

The bomb, fashioned from a pipe, exploded with a flash and a loud blast in the rear portion of the Brooklyn Paramount Theatre.

There were 1,500 persons in the theatre at the time.

No panic resulted from the explosion, theater officials said, and showing of the film, "War and Peace," resumed after a few minutes delay.

Boy Dies 4 Hours
Before Last Party

KINSTON, N.C., Dec. 2 (AP)—A special pre-Christmas party to have been held here today for a little leukemia victim has been called off.

Six-year-old Charlie Kennedy for whom all the plans had been made died at noon, four hours before his last party was to have started.

Two of Charlie's favorite heroes, comedian Jack Benny and baseball player Willie Mays, were to have telephoned him during the party in Charlie's bedroom, piled high with unopened presents.

But there was a spark of fun for Charlie during his final days. He had expressed a wish for a parakeet and friends saw to it that two were given him to keep him company.

Israel Says
Forces Have Pulled Back

Troops 30 Miles
From Suez Canal,
Widening U.N. Area

TEL AVIV, Israel, Dec. 2 (AP)—All Israeli forces remaining in Egypt's Sinai Peninsula have pulled back to positions more than 30 miles east of the Suez Canal, an army spokesman said today. That widens the area available for U. N. police occupation.

Israel announced yesterday it had withdrawn another brigade from Egypt, bringing its total withdrawals to three brigades. This might mean from 10,000 to 12,000 men. The spokesman declined to specify, but the best estimate here is that an Israeli brigade ranges between 3,500 and 4,000 men.

Key Towns Still Occupied

Israeli troops still occupy key Sinai centers as well as the southern tip of the peninsula, which controls the Gulf of Aqaba.

Among the towns still held are Abu Agheila and El Arish, both highway and communications junctions, and Bir Gagafa, on the main road from Israel to Ismailia, a canal nerve center.

The spokesman refused on grounds of military security to reveal the number of troops still occupying the peninsula, which the Israelis invaded Oct. 29 and wrested from the Egyptians in four days of ground and air combat.

Neither the army nor government officials would give a timetable for future withdrawals. They said these depended on political developments.

Restrictions Ordered

In Israel's domestic economy, the war-born cut in oil supplies was reflected today by government orders imposing restrictions on motor vehicles and the use of electricity.

Effective immediately, most private and commercial vehicles must keep off the roads one day a week. They will be limited at other times to zones prescribed by authorities—usually within city limits. Buses, milk and fuel trucks and interurban taxis are exempt.

8 Loggers Lost
In Boat Mishap

CRESTON, B.C., Dec. 2 (AP)—Discovery of a capsized boat on sprawling Kootenay Lake with six lifebelts lashed inside all but eliminated the chance that six loggers missing since Friday are alive.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police, aided by residents of this tiny mining community, continued their search today for the bodies of the six missing men. Prior to the discovery of their 25-foot boat equipped with an outboard motor, the body of Hugh Ellard, Creston logging contractor, was found near the middle of the lake.

Searchers recovered the body of Cecil Stoughton, also of Creston, in the same area last night.

The capsized boat was found about halfway across the five-mile wide lake.

Honor For Zhukov

U.S. Navy Man, Back From South Pole,
Tells Of "Miles And Miles Of Nothing"

MCMURDO SOUND, Antarctica, Dec. 2 (AP)—A lanky Navy man with a beard Abe Lincoln might have envied came back from the South Pole today. He brought the first account of life at the bottom of the world in 44 years.

"It's miles and miles of nothing," said Lt. John Tuck Jr., of Auburn, Mass. But he added the cheerful note that because of 24-hour daylight: "Reveille was when we got up."

Tuck spent 12 days at the Pole with a party of American 'leabees' building a base for scientists who will live there during the pitch-black antarctic winter from March to October.

The tiny American colony brought the first human life since the polar summer of 1911-12 to the vast, white two-mile-high plateau. No one before has ever spent more than two or three days there.

Tuck flew back to this antarctic coast base in one of two ski planes that took Dr. Paul A. Siple of Washington, D. C., and five more Seabees to the Pole. Their arrival boosted the South Pole's population to 24 men. They are connected with Operation Deepfreeze and will build and run a polar station for use in the International Geophysical Year program.

"The first couple of days we went around like actors in slow motion," Tuck said.

This was because of the thin air at the Pole's high altitude, and the bone-chilling cold of 25 degrees below zero even in this period of summer.

U. of Michigan
Students Riot
Over 'Poor' Food

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Dec. 2 (AP)—Between 1,200 and 1,500 students in two University of Michigan dormitory units rioted tonight over what they termed the poor quality of the evening meal.

Shouting, "We want good food," residents of the South Quadrangle began thumping their plates and silverware in unison at the evening meal of corned beef, Swiss cheese, vanilla pudding and milk.

The rioting soon spread from one South Quadrangle dining room to all four and dormitory officials closed food lines and cleared the rooms.

The students then started for the West Quadrangle, another dormitory unit, and mingled in the streets between the two while police squads rushed to the scene to restore order.

Students pelted police and squad cars with snowballs.

U.S. To Demand
Hungary Admit
U.N. Observers

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Dec. 2 (AP)—The United States today sought the fullest possible U.N. support for a new demand on Hungary to open its doors to U.N. observers.

A resolution sponsored by the United States, Cuba and several other countries will go before the U.N. Assembly tomorrow.

The resolution was reported to urge Hungary to admit observers and to ask Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold to keep pressing Hungary to admit them.

The Hungarian U.N. delegation has declared the October revolt and unsettled conditions in Hungary are no business of U.N. It remained silent on the new move to admit observers.

The delegation also had no answer for Hammarskjold on his request to be permitted to enter Budapest and begin U.N. relief work.

The silence of Hungary is one reason for the U.S. resolution and for the fact it is likely to get wide support.

Many delegates already distressed by events in Hungary, were reported to be more angry than ever at what they regard as continued flouting of U.N. decisions.

Mother, Three
Tots Die In Fire

CLAY CENTER, Kan., Dec. 2 (AP)—A young mother and three of her five children were burned fatally today in an explosion and fire at their small frame home.

The dead were Mrs. Betty Clark, 27; a daughter, Candy, 1, and twin sons, Mike and Marvin, 2.

Two other children, Edward, 8, and Sally, 5, were playing outside and escaped harm.

Firemen said the blast apparently was caused by pouring kerosene into a wood-burning stove.

Neighbors said they heard a muffled explosion and saw Mrs. Clark run screaming from the house with her clothing aflame.

The door slammed shut and locked behind Mrs. Clark, so the neighbors had to break it down. By that time the interior was a mass of flames.

Gen. Lewis Pick Dies

Middle East
War Threat
Seen Waning

Chances For Peace
In Still Tense Area
'Reasonably Good'

AUGUSTA, Ga., Dec. 2 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today both he and President Eisenhower believe the prospects for peace in the still tense Middle East are "reasonably good."

At the same time, Dulles said after a conference with the President here that the need to "rebuild unity and strength" of the North Atlantic Alliance has been "tragically demonstrated by Soviet action in Eastern Europe, particularly in Hungary."

The Cabinet officer, ending a month's convalescence from an intestinal operation, set forth that view in a prepared statement which he said had been approved by Eisenhower.

His remarks that both he and the President feel the chances for peace are reasonably good in the trouble-ridden Middle East were made at a news conference where he discussed the statement.

Soviet Tactics Deplacred

"Certainly I think anyone must be far gone in pessimism if he thinks the danger of war in the Middle East today is as great as it was a month ago," Dulles said when a reporter declared the prospects for peace in that strategic area have been painted somewhat gloomily in some quarters.

In his statement, Dulles said, "The President is particularly concerned with the strains and dangers that flow from the persistent disregard by international communism of the principles and pleas of the United Nations."

That appeared to be an allusion, for one thing, to how the Soviet Union has disregarded U.N. condemnation of Russian terrorism in Hungary.

"Nations in both Asia and Europe remain forcibly divided; many peoples are subjected to a ruthless external rule which they deeply resent, and many live in fear, under the shadow of a similar fate," Dulles added.

Task For United Nations

Then he went on to say "these nations and people, we believe, should be allowed their free choice of government, with no servitude to anyone," and he added:

"The President and I feel that this situation ought increasingly to engage the attention of the United Nations in discharge of its charter mission to promote peace with justice."

Dulles flew here this morning from Key West, Fla., where he had been convalescing the last two weeks from a Nov. 3 operation which disclosed intestinal cancer. His physicians said at the time they had removed all traces of the malignancy.

The secretary plans to return to his State Department desk tomorrow, and he intends to leave Saturday for an important Paris meeting of the NATO Ministerial Council starting Dec. 13.

'56 Tax Take Equal
To $608 Per Person

NEW YORK, Dec. 2 (AP)—Federal, state and local governments took a tax bite of $608 for every person in the country in the past fiscal year and spent about $694.84 per person.

These figures were disclosed today by the Tax Foundation in a study which showed all levels of government are spending, taxing and going into debt at record rates.

All forms of government spending in fiscal 1956 hit a record 114 billion dollars, 7 billion more than the previous year. Total tax collections were expected to reach a new high of 100 billion dollars, the foundation reported.

The tax study pegged government debt at 319 billion dollars at the end of fiscal 1955. Of this sum, federal debt accounted for 274 billion, state 11 billion and local 44 billion.

True Christian Cannot Be Neutral, Pope Says

MANILA, Dec. 2 (AP)—Pope Pius XII told the Filipinos today a true Christian cannot be neutral "while the very conscience of mankind is being assaulted and defiled."

A papal radio broadcast from Vatican City closed the second National Eucharistic Congress of the Philippines.

Pope Pius said peoples are not frail if they are sustained by Christ.

"The better world for which the nations are yearning will be born and nourished of His sanctifying and healing grace or it will not come to birth at all," he said.

Two Women Go On Trial In Bizarre Kidnap Case

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Dec. 2 (AP)—A naked woman crouched beside U. S. Highway 80, shielding herself as best she could with desert brush.

Several automobiles passed by. Then one stopped.

Wealthy Mrs. Ruth E. Latham, 51, on the point of collapse from exhaustion, was taken 20 miles to El Centro where she told her story.

She said two women had kidnapped her and attempted to bury her alive, after mistreating her and stripping away her clothes.

The pair, Mrs. Beatrice Victoria Winn, 37, and Mrs. Lucille M. Whisenand, 36, are scheduled to go to trial in Superior Court tomorrow.

Veteran police officers say the case is one of the strangest in their experience. None have suggested a motive, beyond business rivalry between Mrs. Latham and Mrs. Winn.

This had led to a lawsuit over control of a building materials company, of which Mrs. Latham was president and Mrs. Winn manager.

Mrs. Latham, wife of George Latham, real estate and business investment broker, and mother of two physician sons, disappeared from her home Sept. 12.

The next day Mrs. Winn, wife of a utility company district representative at suburban Chula Vista, and Mrs. Whisenand, a U. S. customs employee at the Mexican border, reported they had been kidnapped.

They said the kidnapers, two men and a woman they did not know, released them after talking about getting money from George Latham and mentioning the lawsuit.

Easing Of Rules To Admit More Refugees Urged

VIENNA, Dec. 2 (AP)—A member of the U. S. House Foreign Affairs Committee today urged "easing the ground rules" to let more Hungarian refugees into the United States.

Rep. Wayne L. Hays (D-Ohio) is expected to head the House subcommittee on Europe when the new Congress convenes.

"As I understand it," he said in interview, "the 15,000 refugees to be admitted under parole need not go through all the legal machinery needed for regular visas. I certainly hope everything will be done under the law to get them in as fast as there are planes to carry them."

So far, fewer than 1,200 of nearly 110,000 Hungarians who fled the Russian tanks have left for the United States. The Intergovernmental Committee for European Migration, which handles refugee transport, hopes to step up the pace from about 70 to nearly 300 a day beginning tomorrow. ICEM says it can get planes to fly them as fast as they are ready to go.

Today 14 flights were scheduled to England, including three by new 115-seat Bristol Britannias. More than 6,700 refugees have gone to Britain, which says it will take as many as want to come. Switzerland has taken 6,500.

Although ICEM has moved 35,000 refugees out of Austria, about 70,000 remain—plus some 180,000 left over from World War II and the cold war.

"Thin Man" Holdup Artist Hangs Himself

NEWARK, N. J., Dec. 2 (AP)—Henry Weber, 64, Newark's notorious "Thin Man" holdup artist of the 1930s, hanged himself in Essex County jail early today.

Faced with spending the rest of his life in prison, he put his handkerchief and belt around his throat and then hooked the other end to the cell door, authorities said.

Weber, of Philadelphia, had told a newsman "last night, 'I have a bum heart and I guess I'll die in prison.'"

Detective Joseph Nisivocchia, who knew him professionally in his heyday, then had remarked prophetically that Weber was "a graying old man who knew he'd reached the end of his rope."

Weber was nicknamed the "Thin Man" in 1936 after a string of 30 spectacular holdups. He has spent 18 of the last 20 years in state prison, being paroled last March.

Two Young Men Reenter Hungary To Rescue Three

VIENNA, Austria, Dec. 2 (AP)—Two Budapest students turned up here today after making it through the Iron Curtain twice within a week. This time they brought a party, including the future mother-in-law of one of them.

The young men made it out alone one day last week. They found money and friends awaiting them here, but they were unhappy. They were determined to get the family out. Despite urgent advice against the project, they went back into Hungary.

When they came out again, they brought with them the fiancée of one, his mother and his future mother-in-law. The mother, a sturdy woman in her 50s, was the leader of the second expedition.

"It was a long, rough walk," she said, "about four kilometers—nearly three miles—over the fields. We had two Hungarian soldiers for escorts. When we got to the border they took us a few steps into Austria, saluted, and went back."

he managed to jump aboard Cynthia's car.

He said it was all he could do to stop the car with the foot brake. When he finally stopped it, the other came to a halt as well, and before they could start moving again he jumped out, opened the hood, and yanked the wires from the coil of Cynthia's car.

That stopped the engine. Cynthia was shaken up, but no one was injured. Police said Cynthia's car, a 1956 four-door sedan, had just come back from a garage yesterday after a repair job. They believed that the linkage between the gas pedal and the carburetor stuck.

Louisville High Schools To Bar Integration Foe

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Dec. 2 (AP)—City School Supt. Omer Carmichael today ordered a 17-year-old self-styled foe of racial integration barred from any city-operated school.

Carmichael, who received praise from President Eisenhower for the smooth integration of Louisville's public schools this year, said, "I have instructed our tuition office not to accept tuition from Billy Branham and our high school principals not to enroll him."

Branham, who recently arrived here from Detroit, said he would test the order tomorrow.

The boy sought to enroll in Louisville Male High School last week after a conference with Louisville police but was denied admission on the ground he was a nonresident.

Branham said he would go "to the school in the morning and of-

Cuban Rebels Given Surrender Ultimatum

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, Dec. 2 (AP)—Cuban military authorities today gave die-hard rebels 24 hours to turn in their weapons.

Col. Pedro Barreras arrived from Havana with 450 men trained in guerrilla warfare, to block any revival of the abortive revolt launched here Friday against the government of Gen. Fulgencio Batista.

Occasional shots were still heard in the city, but stores, bars and restaurants opened and transport began to assume normal schedules. Modified martial law remained in effect.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 2—(INS)—Any edition you will probably hear that Eddie Fisher has signed for a remake of "The Clock" for Arthur Freed on Debbie's home lot, MGM.

This all happened since "Bun-dle Of Joy," in which Eddie turned on the charm and song. No, it won't be with Debbie. She has "The Reluctant Debutante" to do.

Wonder if you remember "The Clock" which originally starred Judy Garland and the late Robert Walker in 1943.

Speaking of the Fishers, Debbie wheels Carrie Frances by my house in her perambulator every day. "And one of these days," says Debbie, "I'm going to stop by and interrupt your work." Well, that would be pleasant interrupting.

Fascinating is the description Elmer Rhoden, head of Fox West Coast Theatres, gives of the new Cinemiracle Process which is aimed as competition for Cinemascope. Whereas Cinemascope needs three cameras and three projection machines, Cinemiracle will have only one camera and one lens, thereby eliminating lines, distortion and juggle. A company has been formed with the Fox West Coast Theatres, Gregson Bautzer and Thornton Sargent. The first picture will be called

"Cinemiracle Adventure." "We will make no travelogues," Mr. Rhoden told me. "Ours will be adventure stories, with Louis de Rochemont producing."

In spite of all the talk, Hal Wallis tells me that he is expecting both Jerry Lewis and Dean Martin to report for work in March for "Sad Sack."

"Dean has promised me he will make the picture and before Frank Freeman left for New York, Jerry said that he would fulfill his contract. If they don't make this picture for me," Hal said, "they cannot go anywhere else because I have a firm contract."

Norman Taurog wants Dean for "Fuzzy Pink Nightgown." Jane Russell's Russellfield movie and it's possible he will get Dean if "Sad Sack" is made first.

I am very glad to be told by Dick Rodgers that my exclusive story which said Rossano Brazzi would play the Emile de Becque role in the film version of "South Pacific" has come true. Rossano, who is in New York with his wife, has been in conference with Rodgers and Hammerstein. He will play the role created by Ezio Pinza, but who will play the Mary Martin part has not yet been decided.

"South Pacific" will be filmed in Todd-AO under the supervision of composer Richard Rodgers and lyricist Oscar Hammerstein, with Joshua Logan, who staged the original show on Broadway, directing the screen version.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Singer Gladys Swarthout had serious heart surgery at Roosevelt Hospital in New York, but is miraculously recovering.

Hussle and bustle at the MGM studio to welcome the Prince of Morocco, who had luncheon there Friday.

The Billy Wilder home in Beverly Hills was literally sold out from under Marlene Dietrich. She had been living there when it was sold.

Forget "The Lonesome Cowboy" title for Elvis Presley's movie for Hal Wallis. It's now called "Running Wild."

Agnes Moorehead told me at the George Laboda party honoring Stuart Sherman (both of them are Colgate executives) that she's up for the mother role in "King Kelly."

Dolores Gray, wearing a perky red hat, was escorted by a bearded gentleman named Michael Spade, who came here from Spain just to make her clothes for her Las Vegas opening.

Ida Lupino and Howard Duff held hands all evening. They star in "Mr. Adams and Eve," a TV series starting in January. That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Your beauty diet is a way of eating that will help you with your weight problem.

When Holidays Come

The holidays are practically upon us with party-giving, balls, ballet, and the usual social whirl that marks this season of the year. Granted there's no beauty treatment that makes you glow more than fun. But curiously enough, all this holiday fun can take more out of you than a bout of hard work. When you're busy and going hard, you are more apt to eat ridiculously. When winter comes you're indoors more, and there's a natural inclination to eat more and gain more than you should. And during the holidays more people slide off their diet than any other time of the year.

Your house and everyone's you visit during the holidays is full of gift boxes of candies, nuts, Christmas cookies, fruit cakes and all sorts of rich goodies. If you are making the usual round of parties, don't be foolish and eat everything in sight. Be sensible. All these tidbits are in your mouth such a short time and slip down so easily. All they do is just make you fatter. And it takes a lot more work to get rid of these extra pounds once you put them on (particularly if you're past middle age). If you can't resist these temptations, do make up for it a little at home by the right diet there. ("Your Beauty Diet" will tell you what foods you can eat—send for your copy by writing to "Secrets of Charm" in care of this newspaper, enclosing 10 cents in coin plus self-addressed, stamped envelope).

Moderation in eating and drinking, as well as getting enough sleep are three golden rules of the girl who values her good looks and health.

Frostburg Acts On Bowery St. Paving Project

Property Owners Favor Ordinance

FROSTBURG — Ordinance No. 484, providing for the widening and repaving of Bowery Street was passed at a special meeting of the Mayor and City Commissioners held in the City Hall Friday evening.

About 30 residents and property owners from the Bowery Street section attended the meeting, but little definite objection to the improvements, as contained in the ordinance, was raised.

One item which specified that property owners will be charged with the cost of new curbing on the street came up for considerable discussion. Curbing, in good condition, already exists at the edge of most of the paving on Bowery Street. When the street is widened, and the grass plots are eliminated, new paving will have to be installed, but the property owners present felt that they should not be charged for curbing a second time.

After some discussion it was agreed that this section of the ordinance should be amended to definitely specify that each property owner would be assessed one third of the remaining cost of the repaving and other improvements after funds received from state and federal agencies have been deducted from the total cost of the project.

City Attorney Edward J. Ryan was instructed to re-write this section of the ordinance to cover the proposed changes.

Benjamin Huntsman, Ernest Murphy and Mrs. Katherine Carter were appointed to serve as commissioners on the project and will act in this capacity until the job has been completed. At this time they will be required to pass upon the acceptance of the job by the city.

It was called to the attention of those present that a new six-inch water line and new gas mains will be installed below this new street is surfaced, so that it will not have to be dug up for this purpose after it has been completed.

The street will be widened and completely rebuilt over its entire length. Some of the property owners objected to this on the grounds that the street would be used for a speedway, and be unsafe for their small children, but most of those attending the meeting were more concerned about what the cost of the project would mean to them.

An interesting sidelight of the meeting developed when it was discovered that practically all of the citizens present were heartily in favor of the recent experiment when for several weeks, Bowery was made a one-way street.

One of the commissioners stated that it was regrettable that when Bowery was being used as a one-way street, not a single person appeared before the council to speak in favor of the arrangement, while a number were present at each meeting to demand that it be changed back to its original two-way traffic status.

Keyser Groups To Sponsor Ice Skating Rink

KEYSER — If all goes according to schedule and the weather is cold enough, there should be ice skating on a public operated rink at the south end of Keyser by the coming weekend, Mayor John C. Freeland said.

The project, jointly sponsored by the city, the Kiwanis Club and Recreation Board, was definitely decided on at a recent meeting.

After a survey of possible sites where areas could be flooded with water, which would freeze and provide ice skating, a spot just south of the shelters at the park adjacent to the swimming pool was decided on.

There is a natural basin there, the mayor said, which, with the erection of a small bank around it, could provide an area approximately 200 feet square for ice skating. City employees will put up the four-inch bank early this week and then members of the Fire Department will flood the basin. The depth of the water will range from four to six inches, the mayor said.

The entire operation is expected to take four or five days. There will be no charge for skating, and girls' organizations of Keyser High School will sell hot dogs and hot coffee.

Edward Daskel is chairman of the Kiwanis committee. Members are H. J. Borgan, James T. Watson, James T. Handlan and Russell Bishop.

Friends Aware At Westernport Buy Vehicle

WESTERNPORT — A station wagon was purchased recently by Westernport Unit, Friends Aware of Handicapped Children. A 1953 Chevrolet eight-passenger vehicle with power glide and steel body was bought at cost from the Keyser Auto Mart, Leslie Sherman, salesman, donated a temporary license for the vehicle.

The Friends Aware paid half of the cost of the station wagon and have 60 days in which to pay the balance.

The unit has received $132.25 from the employees of two shifts of the cutter and finishing mill at the Luke mill and is to receive donations from the other shift.

The unit drew money from its present funds to make the initial payment for the station wagon and hopes to receive donations from area individuals and organizations to replenish the treasury and make the final payment. The money in the treasury had been allocated for expenses incident to operation of the class for the retarded children.

The class was discontinued recently for lack of transportation facilities.

The Friends Aware unit will meet Wednesday at 7 p. m. at the union hall to make plans for resuming operation of the class. Members hope to reopen Monday, December 10. In the meantime, license plates will be obtained for the station wagon and arrangements made for insurance.

Romney Hospital Selects Surgeon

Hampshire Committee Names Dr. Earl R. Paul

ROMNEY — Through efforts of the Hampshire Memorial Hospital Medical Advisory Committee, Dr. J. D. Brown and Dr. R. R. Brown of Romney, the services of Dr. Earl R. Paul, formerly of Baltimore, as surgeon for Hampshire Memorial Hospital have been secured.

Dr. Paul has been given staff privileges in Memorial and Sacred Heart hospitals in Cumberland and will practice in this city until the local hospital is ready to accept patients. He will then move to Romney. In the meantime he will live in Cumberland and maintain an office there.

Dr. Paul was born and reared in Baltimore. He is a graduate of the University of Virginia at Charlottesville where he took pre-medical training. In 1946, he graduated from the Medical School at the University of Maryland and then interned 15 months at Mercy Hospital in Baltimore.

Dr. Paul was resident surgeon at Thayer Veterans Hospital and Vanderbilt Medical School Hospital in Nashville, Tenn., for four years. He also served for five years with the U. S. Navy as a surgeon.

He has had exceptional training and experience in all types of general surgery and chest surgery. He has done a large amount of the new type of blood vessel replacement surgery which the larger clinics throughout the country have been doing lately.

At present, he is qualified to become a member of the leading surgical society in America as a "diplomat" of the American Board of Surgery.

Dr. Paul is married and has two children, Diane Lee and Earl R. Paul Jr., age 10 and seven years, respectively. The family expects to move to Romney when the local hospital is ready.

●Russia Is Gaining In The Mid-East

Russia has got farther in penetrating the Middle East in the last two years, charge the critics of Western foreign policy, than in the previous two hundred. It began to thrust itching palms in that direction almost as soon as it became a great power under Peter the Great (1689-1725).

In 1739 France intervened to hold to a minimum the Russian gains from a war against Turkey, but Russia retained a foothold on the Black Sea and in 1774-1783 took over the whole Black Sea peninsula of the Crimea. In the early 19th Century several wars with Persia (now Iran) put Russia into the Caucasus, threatening Asia Minor from the north.

In the middle of the 19th Century the Czarist government tried for control of Palestine, under pretext of protecting Christian shrines there. It was set back by losing the Crimean War against Britain and France. In 1878 the British, French, Germans and Austrians at the Congress of Berlin deprived Russia of most of the fruits of victory in another Russian war against Turkey (another result: Britain got Cyprus).

Further Russian territorial ambitions were dampened for a time by war defeat at the hands of Japan in 1904-05, but in 1915 hard-pressed Britain and France promised Russia, in secret treaties, the Dardanelles and Constantinople after World War I. That promise automatically was nullified when Communist Lenin replaced Tsar Nicholas II and when a new and strong Turkey arose.

In 1945 Turkey, with backing from the Western democracies, refused to be scared into ceding to Russia Turkish territory along the south shore of the Black Sea. Today, however, a Russia entrenched in Arab lands would have the Turks in pincers by threatening them from both the south and the north.

Recent events would seem to indicate that Russia now is nearer than ever to a goal which history heretofore has denied her.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Special Days, Weeks, Months

When I looked at this pamphlet, "Special Days, Weeks, Months in 1957," issued by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, I could hardly believe what I saw. Practically every day of the year has been pre-empted by somebody as a holiday. For instance, right on the first page, I see Louisiana Yam Supper Season and under it is Super Market Month and believe it or not the March of Dimes is followed by Odorless Decoration Week.

That one puzzled me, so I looked it up and there is a committee and an address and all that. And the purpose is "To inform the public of the latest developments in the home field which permit decoration on an all-year-round basis without the usual discomforting odors." I wish I had known about that before because while I have thus far not been able to get a new icebox from my landlord who is an absentee in an adjacent republic, I did get some of the house painted. My wife sent Joe up to the kennels in Nyack because Joe might suffer from the odor of the paint but it is all right for the humans to take the fish oil, tung oil, turpentine or benzine or whatever the landlords put into paint to keep the tenants from asking for more painting.

Now what can Take Tea and See Week mean? Take Tea, I can understand. Tea is a good drink, hot or cold, but what is the See for? It means nothing, see! This is just a week to encourage tea instead of vodka drinking.

So we shall move along to Large Size Week which offhand can be male or female. Actually it is neither male nor female. The object is to encourage the sale of economy size packages in chain drug stores. Why it takes a week to do that is hard to understand. The other day, when they were painting our kitchen, I saw my wife throw out lots of dollars worth of stuff that must have been bought for economy but was never used because no one knew what to use it for.

Down at the bottom of page 1 is Good Breakfast Months, by which they mean February and March. What have they against the other 10 months? These months are sponsored by the American Bakers Association which is in Chicago and I suggest that they fight it out with the American Medical Association because if you listen to the bakers, you'll get fat and if you listen to the doctors, you'll get skinny.

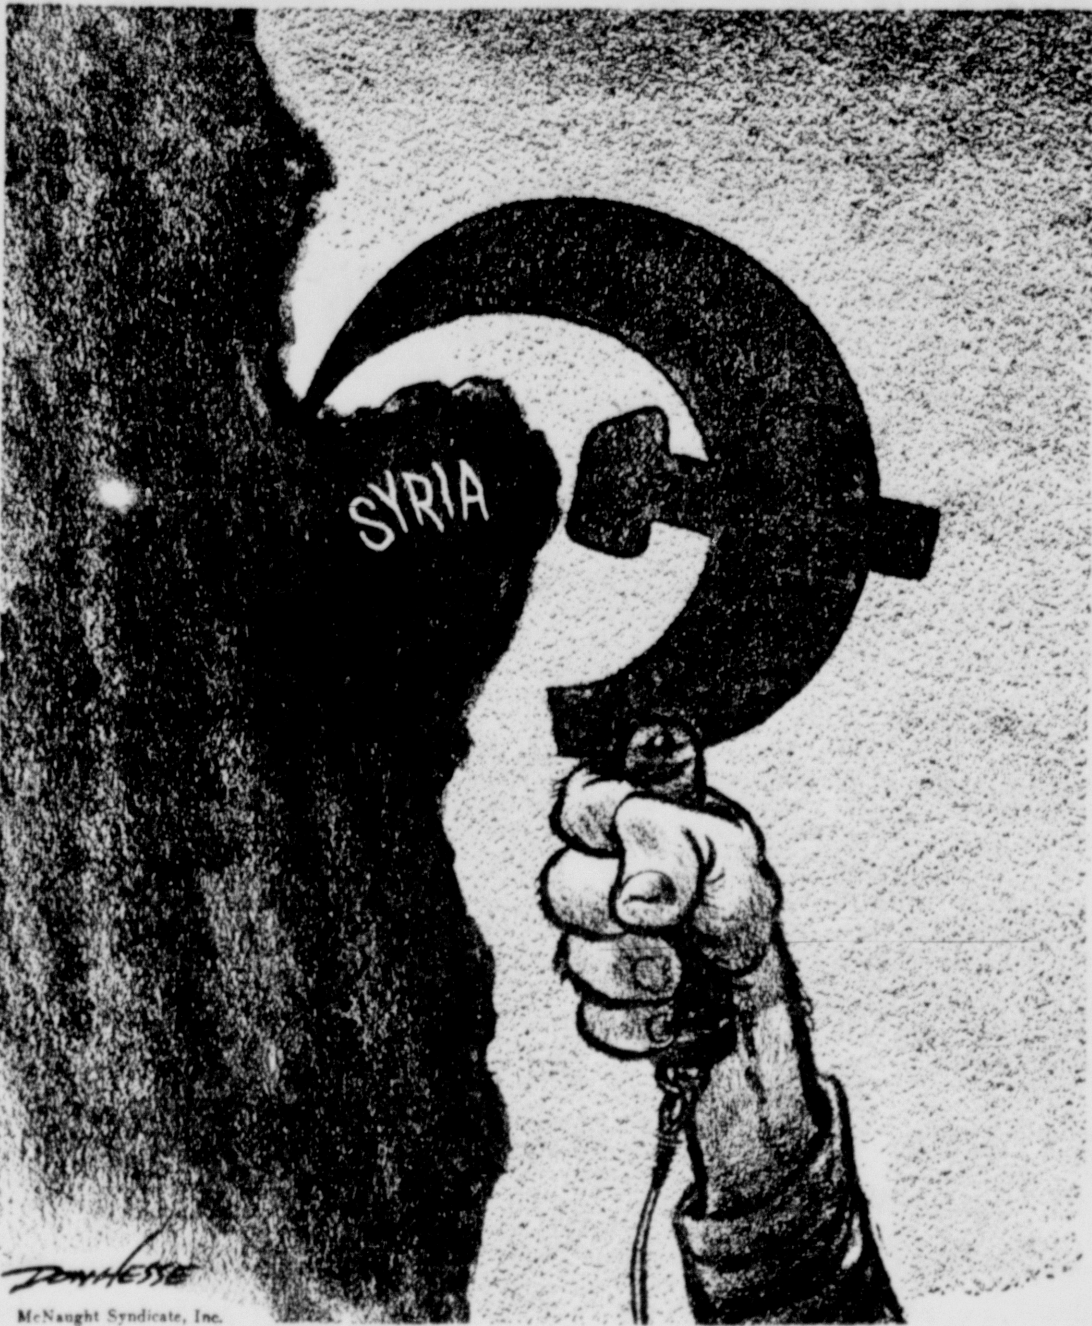

The American Heart Month is followed by Ice Cream 'n' Cherries Month, which is a puzzler because if you want to have a strong heart you have to keep your weight down but if you eat ice cream and cherries, you can get nice and plump. So there again is a conflict between taste and common sense. But I can tell you that even back in the days when I could eat ice cream, I found the gook they put on top of it unpalatable.

I shall skip over Kraut and Frankfurter Week, taking for granted that it is a way of stirring interest in the hot dog which is an old device for eating sausage without getting greasy fingers. In the old days, the hot dogs were more spicy and more highly smoked than they are now.

There is Cottage Cheese-Cling Peach Salad Time which might be interesting and then there is something called One-Dish Meals with Cheese. The list marks as tentative Irish Linen Week which seems to be prejudicial. The Irish are never tentative. Then I discover Pearadise-in-April which is to encourage the eating of Bartlett pears. You can take your choice as to whether you will eat these pears every day for a week or eat an apple to keep the doctor away or just eat nothing and go on to Spring Festival or Gas Ranges or Clean Oil Month or Bike Safety Week or Correct Posture Week or V.F.W. "Buddy" Poppy Week or Refresh with Milk Campaign or whether you will just celebrate Christmas Day which is listed as religious. However, do not buy anything that is made in any country behind the Iron Curtain. These countries need our dollars; do not give them our dollars. Celebrate Christmas by buying only American goods and the goods of our allies.

First Notch On The Mid-East Climb

Western Alliance Vital To U.S. As To Europe

WASHINGTON

A convulsive effort to glue the shattered Western Alliance together again, and to repair some of the terrible damage done to the whole Western position by the Middle East crisis, is now going on in Washington.

The most important part of this effort is as yet unannounced but nevertheless firm administration decision to make up the desperate prospective West European oil shortage, caused by the closing of the Suez Canal. Official estimates place the likely cost to the U. S. Treasury at over a billion dollars.

There was even some consideration given to calling a special session of Congress to get the money but it has since been decided that available funds are enough to tide things over until the regular session. The idea of a special session was of course, to put it mildly, distasteful to the Administration; for obvious political reasons. And it was also feared that a special session would dramatize the issue, and thus infuriate the Arabs, perhaps leading to the cutting of the oil pipeline from Saudi Arabia.

For such reasons, the decision to see Western Europe through the oil crisis has not been announced with the usual blare of trumpets. But quiet assurances that the problem will be handled in one way or another have been conveyed to the Europeans.

The effort to glue things together again has taken other forms as well, like President Eisenhower's strong statement re-affirming support for the Western Alliance, and the decision to send Secretary Dulles off to the NATO meeting in Paris, less than five weeks after his cancer operation.

The official American reaction to the Middle Eastern crisis has gone through three phases. The first phase was simply fury; in this initial phase, there was much talk of "letting the British and French stew in their own juice." One very high administration policy-making official was widely quoted as saying that it was now American policy to "write off Britain and France."

President Eisenhower was personally in large part responsible for phase two. He rebuked his furious subordinates, and emphasized the importance of the Western Alliance. At the same time, he initiated the policy of putting the main emphasis of American policy on working through the United Nations, and the Western Alliance was correspondingly downgraded. During this period, policy was being made entirely by the President, under Secretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr., and a handful of high administration appointees.

This phase culminated last week, when the United States joined the Soviet Union in demanding at the U. N. that Britain and France evacuate Egypt "forthwith." At this point, British Foreign Minister Selwyn Lloyd communicated to the British government his doubts that the Anglo-American alliance could any longer be considered valid.

Within the last few days, however, the voices of the professional foreign policy specialists, at the second level of government, who have been dubious all along about the direction of American policy, have begun to be heard,

Baering Down On The News

Moscow has about five million volunteers who will go anywhere they're dragged.

Even in our own army there isn't much difference between a volunteer and a conscript after the top sarge starts xylophoning "anchors away" on his mess kit.

Before Nasser sends for those permanent transients he should gander Hungary, Poland, Austria, East Germany and points blunted.

The Russian man who came to dinner brings his own cook. If Bulganin gets into Egypt the Nile will be running vodka from Khartoum to the Delta.

Nasser has started something like Mussolini and Shickelgruber. And the U. N. acts like a runaway hoss with its bit in its teeth is going to see his dentist.

There's nothing new in these extemporaneous laps around the mulberry bush. Nasser is never going to get to school if he lets Moscow help him with his homework.

What can U. N. do about it? Well, the boy with his finger in the dike got too ambitious when he practiced Chopsticks.

Nasser has sowed the Sirocco and will silage the Simoom. It's a gift-wrapped vacuum.

President Faces Policy Decision: Should U.S. Abandon West Allies?

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — The most sweeping review of American foreign policy since the end of the war is under way this weekend in the private Presidential cottage which Ike's friends built for him just off the golf course at Augusta, Ga.

There the President and John Foster Dulles are drafting the main points on what may be a historic new policy which will reassert American leadership throughout the world. The Secretary of State has been working in this while resting at Key West, has talked with Ike several times over the telephone so as to coordinate their work.

Meanwhile, other foreign-policy advisers, chiefly the National Security Council and Vice President Nixon, have been working in the same problem in Washington.

The basic issue facing the President and his Administration for some time has been whether to cut loose from our traditional allies, France and England, and line up with the African-Asiatic nations once colonies of France and England.

On this Mr. Eisenhower has faced an important cleavage in his Administration.

Potent Young Policy-Makers

The Afro-Asian advisers are led by Vice President Nixon with support from UN Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge.

During his trips through Asia, Nixon has become more and more sold on the neutralist bloc, despite their flirtations with Moscow and despite their desire to stay aloof from USA-USSR rivalry. This is a new approach for Nixon. When he ran for the Senate in 1950 his campaign got heavy financial support from the China lobby and relatives of Chiang Kai-shek.

In New York, meanwhile, Ambassador Lodge has been siding more and more with the Afro-Asian bloc. He has lined up U. S. votes on the side of Arabs and the Nehru neutralists whom we once criticized so bitterly during the Indochina negotiations in Geneva.

During Dulles' illness these two young policy-makers, Nixon and Lodge, have been in a position to have their own way. Though absent, however, Dulles has agreed with them. Irked at the French and British for attacking Suez, he probably would have gone just as far, if not further than Nixon and Lodge.

The pro-French and British group includes advisers in the State Department and the National Security Council who hate to see any break with our traditional allies. Actually the chief leader of this group is Eisenhower himself. His friendship with the British goes back to war days when he ruled that a British officer should have a position opposite every American officer in order to promote complete Anglo-British cooperation. His London Guild Hall speech was greeted as one of the great classics in outlining Anglo-American friendship. After the war he was presented with part of Culzean Castle in Scotland as a gift of the Scottish people.

Secret Talks With Nehru

While these policy discussions were in progress, the Nixon-Lodge policy of Asia cooperation actually has been put to a test during secret talks with Prime Minister Nehru in India. These have been taking place through the Indian Embassy in Washington, the American Embassy in New Delhi, and the United Nations in New York.

Results of these talks was a secret agreement that the United States would support the speedy withdrawal of British, French and Israeli troops from Egyptian soil. In return, Nehru agreed to enounce Russia for the Hungarian blood-bath. Nehru also agreed that western investments must be protected in the Middle East.

A byproduct of these secret talks was Nehru's hurry-up invitation to come to Washington. His visit had been canceled after Ike's ileitis attack last June, and Nehru was reported miffed when the President chose to take on the strenuous trip to Panama instead of a much less strenuous scheduled talk with Nehru in Washington.

During the recent conversations some of the messages to Nehru came personally from Ike himself, and the Indian Prime Minister is reported much happier.

Red China Relations

One point discussed in these secret Nehru conversations which did not lead to agreement was on Red China. The Indian Prime Minister wants Communist China admitted to the United Nations and said so. He argued that China had sided with Yugoslavia in opposing the Kremlin's blood-bath in Hungary. He urged that the Chinese Communists are nationalists who may become just as independent of Moscow as Tito.

This is the position long held by Dean Acheson as Truman's Secretary of State, and the Eisenhower Administration didn't buy it from Nehru. They did, however, express sympathy, and promised to work out better relations with Red China.

This may be one reason for the more friendly statement by Chou En-lai last week that he expects improved relations with the United States.

What will come out of all these backstage, high-level discussions, plus the Dulles-Eisenhower talk at Augusta, will probably be a speech on foreign policy more important than anything the President has delivered during his four years in office. It will probably give lip service to traditional ties with England and France, but pave the way for much more cooperation with Asia and Africa.

Note—The appointment of a Democrat, Ellsworth Bunker, as Eisenhower's new Ambassador to India was a move toward getting Democratic cooperation in case political opposition develops to any close alignment with the Afro-Asian bloc. Bunker not merely served under the Truman Administration as Ambassador to Argentina and Italy, he is also a long-time friend of Dean Acheson dating back to their days in Yale. He is a firm believer in Acheson policies.

On The Side

By E. V. Durling

(Editor's Note: With this column, E. V. Durling begins a two-week vacation. His next column will appear in The News December 18.)

Now there is a recording machine that can be hidden in a necktie. This gadget will record all conversations in which the wearer is a participant. What did you say to somebody yesterday that you wouldn't care to have recorded? Anyway, permit me to again quote that classic advice, "Five things observe with care: of whom you speak, to whom you speak, and how and when and where."

SAVING MONEY

Our representatives at Washington, D. C., seem to be really determined to save the taxpayers some money. As for example, a Congressional committee engaged in studying ways and means of cutting down expenses stated that the Internal Revenue Service could save $250,000 a year by reducing the width of the cigarette tax stamp by three-sixteenths of an inch. This inspires a thought as to what the Post Office Department could save by reducing the width of all its stamps by three-sixteenths of an inch. Or even two-sixteenths of an inch. And why not?

ASKING

Queries from clients. Q. Did Garibaldi, the Italian patriot, ever live in New York? A. Yes sir. He lived on Staten Island for a period. Q. Has there ever been a stage play with Yale University Background? A. Only one I know of was that titled, "At Yale," in which James J. Corbett, the heavyweight boxer was starred.

WIVES

Have you a five star wife? In a British competition designed to bring unusual wives into the spotlight, the ladies are rated by stars. One star each for face-figure-fashion-food-fun. The five star rating goes to a wife who has a face like Elizabeth Taylor, a figure like Marilyn Monroe, the style sense of the Duchess of Windsor, is an outstanding cook and very much fun to be with. If your wife doesn't rate five stars, tell her not to be depressed. There are a number of celebrated females, including Marilyn Monroe and Elizabeth Taylor who only rate two stars.

THOSE CAMPS

In nudist and naturist camps men greatly outnumber the women. On the waiting lists of some of these camps are five times as many men as women. Do you know the difference between a nudist and a naturist? A nudist is primarily a sun bathing enthusiast. A naturist in addition to being a sun bathing addict is also a vegetarian, a non-smoker and a teetotaler.

TRAVELING

Considering taking a trip shortly? Are you familiar with "travel insurance"? Say your trip is to be of a month's duration. For a premium of $29 you can get $25,000 accident or loss of limb insurance. In addition, for the same premium, you get $2,500 medical care insurance. And $2,000 baggage insurance.

WILD WALKING

Wild walking is as dangerous as wild driving. Reckless pedestrians are the cause of too many fatal accidents. In London, a drive has been launched against the wild walkers. The penalty there for the first offense of jaywalkers is the equivalent of $28. For the second offense it is $70. Highest penalty for jaywalking I know of in this country is in Pasadena, Calif. There you can be fined $10 for wild walking. For a second offense you can be jailed.

BRIEFLY

It was W. S. Gilbert who said of Sir Herbert Beerbohm Tree's performance of the part of Hamlet that it was "funny without being vulgar" . . . As for cigars I like a natural color corona shaped Havana that draws well and has been expertly handled in the humidior. Not too fresh, not too dry.

WEIGHT

The proper and healthiest weight for a middle aged man is what he weighed in his twenties. So says a physical culture expert. That puts me right on the beam. I weighed 188 when I was 22. And that's what I weigh now. I have weighed as much as 220 but I took it off by eating less. No seconds. Speaking of weight reduction, Alfred Hitchcock, the film director, once weighed 294. He now weighs 189. He went on a diet which consisted of three cups of black coffee, two cigars and one lamb chop a day.

New Yorkers Tighten Grip On 1st Place

Need Another Win For Eastern Title; 46,351 See Contest

By TED MEIER

NEW YORK, Dec. 2 (AP)—The New York Giants turned the tables on the Washington Redskins today.

Wallop 33-7 by the Skins in Washington several weeks ago, the Giants struck swiftly for two touchdowns before the Skins ran a play from scrimmage and went on for a decisive 28-14 victory that strengthened their hold on first place in the Eastern Division of the National Football League. The Giants can clinch the division title by beating Cleveland next week.

The hard running of Frank Gifford and the passing of Chuck Conerly spelled the end of Washington's five-game winning streak before 46,351 at Yankee Stadium.

Gifford scored three touchdowns on runs of six and eleven yards and the other on a 14-yard pass from Conerly.

To show how unstoppable Gifford was, he gained a total of 161 yards on his 108 yards by rushing and 53 in the air by catching six passes. This compared to the Giants team total of 367 yards, 193 on the ground and 174 in the air.

Conerly's sharp passing helped to open Washington's defenses for Gifford's hard running. Chuck completed 10 of 16 aeriels for 127 yards.

Poluck Runs 76 Yards

Washington made a battle of it after the two early Giant touchdowns, trailing only 14-7 at the half. But the Giants completely dominated the second half. Washington's last score came on a 76-yard run by John Poluck on a recovered fumble after the Giants had gone ahead 28-7.

Washington scoring—Touchdowns—Meilinger (46, pass); Poluck (76, run with fumble). Conversions: Baker 2.

New York scoring—Touchdowns: MacAfee (29, pass); Gifford 3 (16, run; 14, pass; 11, run). Conversions: Agajanian 4.

Jack Scarbath, Nickel Feature Steelers' Win

Pittsburgh Beats Los Angeles, 30-13

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 2 (AP)—Quarterback Jack Scarbath, making his first start in the signal calling role and veteran Elbie Nickel, nearing the end of his pro career, teamed up today for a 30-13 Pittsburgh Steelers' victory over the Los Angeles Rams in a battle of National Football League tail-enders.

Former Maryland star, Scarbath, hit Nickel with a 22-yard touchdown pass in the second quarter for the Steelers first score and connected with the veteran end and slot-back with a 47-yard payoff heave in the final period for the Steelers' final score.

Trailing 6-0 at the end of the first period, a chilly crowd of 20,540—smallest of the season at Forbes Field—saw the Steelers vent their fury with a touchdown and a field goal in the second quarter and add one more touchdown in the third and two in the final quarter.

Scarbath hit Nickel with a 22-yard touchdown pass and Sid Watson converted to put the Steelers ahead 7-6 in the second quarter.

The Rams scored in the first period on a 21-yard jaunt by tackle Bud McFadin on a fumble by the Steelers' Watson and again in the third period on a 61-yard pass-run play from quarterback Bill Wade to end Bill Boyd.

Los Angeles scoring—Touchdowns: McFadin (22, pick up of a fumble); Boyd (61, pass-run from Wade). Conversions: Richter.

Steelers scoring—Touchdowns: Nickel (22 and 47 yard pass-runs from Scarbath); Matthews (6, pass from Marchibroda); Rogel (1, plunge). Field goal: Watson (16 yards). Conversions: Watson 3.

Wilson's 77-yard Run For Touchdown Sinks Colts, 20-17

BALTIMORE, Dec. 2 (AP)—Billy Wilson hurdled two would-be tacklers in a breath-taking stunt on his way to a 77-yard touchdown that pulled the San Francisco 49ers from behind in the fourth quarter for a 20-17 National Football League victory over the Baltimore Colts today.

It was Wilson's second touchdown of the game and came with the Colts, who held the lead until then, ahead by 17-14.

The 6-4 end both times caught passes from quarterback Y. A. Tittle.

Wilson's final exhibition combined basketball, sprinting and high jumping. He took a 17-yard pass from Tittle on the dead run and sprinted to midfield where Don Shula and Bert Rechichar of the Colts were crouched ready to knock him down.

Without breaking stride, Wilson took off over both of them to leave them grabbing air while he went on to the goal with a minute and a-quarter of the fourth period gone.

Joe Perry scored the other San Francisco touchdown on a four-yard run for the 49ers' third victory in 10 games.

Alan Ameche plunged for two Col touchdowns and Rechichar kicked a 27-yard field goal in Baltimore's fifth losing cause in nine games.

San Francisco scoring—Touchdowns: Wilson 2 (9, pass from Tittle; 77, pass-run from Tittle); Perry (4, run). Conversions: Soltan 2.

Baltimore scoring—Touchdowns: Ameche 2 (1, plunge; 3, plunge). Conversions: Feamster 2. Field goal: Rechichar (27).

Green Bay Edges Cardinals, 24-21

CHICAGO, Dec. 2 (AP)—Tobin Rote's passing wizardry and three touchdown sneaks in the last half—his last one in the final minute of play—today gave the Green Bay Packers an uphill 24-21 victory over the Chicago Cardinals.

The defeat, coming after the Cards had gone ahead on a 60-yard scoring drive 21-17 in the last 3½ minutes, all but dropped them out of contention in the Eastern Division of the National Football League. They now have a 6-4 record and trail the New York Giants, who defeated Washington 28-14 today, by 1½ games with two more to play.

Green Bay	0	3	14	7—21
Cardinals	7	7	0	7—21
Green Bay scoring—Touchdowns: Rote 3 (2, sneak; 1, sneak; 1, sneak). Field goal: Cone (34). Conversions: Cone 3.

Deer Season Opens Today, County Marks 246 And 491

Garrett Record 608, Pennsylvania, West Virginia Also Open

The deer hunting season opens today in Maryland, West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

Maryland and West Virginia have six-day seasons while hunters in Pennsylvania are given two weeks to bag a buck.

Only bucks are legal game in Maryland while in West Virginia hunters are allowed to shoot buck, doe or fawn in 23 counties and only bucks may be killed in 22 counties. Ten counties are closed to all deer hunting.

New Marks Set In 1955

Record kills were posted in the three District No. 1 counties of Maryland last year. Gunners bagged 491 bucks in Allegany, 608 in Garrett and 235 in Washington.

Allegany kills in previous years were: 1954—281 1953—279, 1952—230, 1951—207, 1950—188, 1949—171, 1948—201, 1947—149. Prior to last year, Garrett county's high for a six-day season was 583 in 1952. There were 517 white-tails slain in Garrett in 1946, 566 in 1951 and 510 in 1954.

246 First Day Record

Opening day last year was marked by a record 246 kills in Allegany county. That was more than the six-day totals of 1952, 1951, 1950, 1949, 1948 and 1947.

There is no open season on deer in Howard, Montgomery, Anne Arundel, Prince Georges and St. Mary's counties in Maryland.

All kills must be checked in at one of the state's 33 checking stations. The head or hide of the deer cannot be removed or the carcass butchered until it has been checked. There are four checking stations in Allegany county, five in Garrett and three in Washington.

About 5,000 hunters will enjoy special privileges at the Aberdeen Proving Ground or the Army Chemical Center at Edgewood. With a serious deer overpopulation at the two bases, military authorities will admit a liberal number of hunters in hopes of effectively reducing the herds. However, only military personnel, dependents and civilian employees will be afforded hunting rights at the two bases.

Gunners Are Warned

The Maryland Game and Inland Fish Commission reminds hunters that hunting on posted land without permission is punishable by fine and loss of license for one year. Gunners also are warned that it is illegal to shoot deer from a car or carry a loaded weapon in a vehicle.

Catamounts, Lions Win Cage Openers

West Virginia School for the Deaf downed the Alumni Saturday night at Romney by the score of 87-40. Charles Buemi and Gene Smith, with 21 and 18 markers led the Lions in scoring while M.L. Pyles was high for the grads with 23 markers.

Eagles, Officials Are Snowballed As Browns Win, 17-14

CLEVELAND, Dec. 2 (AP)—Golden-toed Lou Groza's 37-yard field goal with 29 seconds to play gave the Cleveland Browns a 17-14 victory over the Philadelphia Eagles today in a National League football game replete with everything, even snowballing.

The conquest boosted the defending champion Browns into a fourth-place tie in the Eastern Division and dropped the losers from fourth to last.

The rough and rugged contest picked up right where a post-game fight between the teams left off two weeks ago. Bobby Thomason, Philadelphia quarterback, suffered a broken nose on the last play of the opening quarter today and did not reappear.

Several players flurried were quelled along the way by officials who themselves came in for prolonged booby by the crowd in the third quarter when the fans thought a penalty should have been assessed against the Eagles for knocking a Brown pass receiver to the ground before he could get the ball. An interception occurred on the play.

The bleacherites also showered the officials and the Eagles with a snowball barrage.

Referee Tommy Timin then walked to the microphone warned the crowd that further snowballing would result in a penalty and promptly marched off the 15 yards giving the ball to the Eagles on the 18.

Philadelphia 7 0 0 0—14
Cleveland 7 7 0 3—17

Philadelphia scoring—Touchdowns: Thomason (1-yard plunge; 20-yd run). Conversions: Walston 2.

Cleveland scoring—Touchdowns: Brewster (3, pass from O'Connell); Renfro (46, pass from O'Connell). Field goals: Groza (37 yards). Conversions: Groza 2.

Detroit Gets 28 Points In Second Half

Bobby Layne Stars As Michigan Team Cops Western Lead

DETROIT, Dec. 2 (AP)—The Detroit Lions smashed the Chicago Bears' double barreled offense today, 42-10, and won the bruising battle for first place in the National Football League's Western Division.

A savage mixture of powerful backs and Bobby Layne's pin-point passing nearly swept the vaunted Bears out of Briggs Stadium before a crowd of 37,024.

The Lions held all the way as they brushed past the Bears in the division race. It was by far their most important—and most decisive—victory in a tremendous comeback year. Detroit shut out the Chicago club in the second half while rolling up 28 points and losing two other scoring opportunities on fumbles.

The Lions hold a half-game edge going into the final two weeks of the hectic campaign. They must tangle with the Bears again Dec. 16 in Chicago in the final contest.

Layne, the blond Texan whose passing has been running hot and cold all year, passed for two of the second-half touchdowns that overwhelmed the Bears in the third period, end Dave Middleton worked his way behind J. C. Caroline at the Chicago 15 to grab a Layne pass and sprint into the end zone.

Early in the final period, Layne spotted Middleton, Jim Doran and Gene Gorman for three passes that covered all of a 65-yard drive. A 9-yard pass to Gorman was good for the touchdown.

Detroit piled across two more touchdowns in the fourth quarter, with second string quarterback Harry Gilmer throwing to Middleton for an 18-yard touchdown pass and reserve fullback Bill Bowman plunging over from the 3.

Chicago Bears scoring—Touchdowns: Casares (5, pass-run from Blanda). Field goal: Blanda (11). Conversion—Blanda.

Detroit scoring—Touchdowns: Gorman 2 (1, plunge; 9, pass-run from Layne); Layne (15, run); Middleton 2 (48, pass-run from Layne; 18, pass-run from Gilmer); Bowman (3, plunge). Conversions: Layne 6.

Bedford County Boy Is Killed By His Brother

Youth Accidentally Shot At His Home

William Paul Mellott, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Mellott, RFD 1, Roaring Springs, Pa., was killed almost instantly about 9 a. m. Saturday when he was shot accidentally by his 14-year-old brother.

The shooting occurred in the living room of their farm home located in a mountainous section of Bedford County known locally as Polecat Hollow. It is situated in Bedford County's Woodbury Township.

Pennsylvania State Trooper Elmer Landis, who investigated the accident, said the two boys were alone in the house at the time of the shooting. Both parents were away at work and three older brothers are all in the armed service.

Trooper Landis reported that the boys were romping around the house in a friendly game of cowboys and Indians. They came upon the 20-gauge pump gun which their father was planning to use in the deer season which opens today in Pennsylvania.

The gun was accidentally discharged and the ball struck William in the chest, passing through his body and lodging in the wall of the house. Dr. J. W. Kniseley, county coroner, who investigated with Trooper Landis, said the main artery to the boy's lungs had been severed and he apparently died instantly.

Loyal Mellott, the younger brother, ran some 600 yards to a neighbor's house and a physician was called to the scene. Police were notified when it was discovered that the boy was already dead. John Dittmar of Loysburg, Pa., a game warden, also was called into the investigation when it was thought the shooting was a hunting accident.

My Brother's Keeper

By REV. CARL H. CLAPP

The power of the Bible holds for our lives, not only the truth it proclaims but also the questions it asks. Many of Jesus' profound messages are found in his questions. When Jesus asked "What does it profit a man to gain the whole world and lose his own soul?" you can be sure that not one left his presence with a sense of complacency. Or when Cain and Abel were in the field and Cain slew his brother Abel and God asked Cain about it he said "Am I my brother's keeper?" it was a sense of guilt. That is a disturbing question and has always been and always will be as long as man has a conscience and a heart. Now what is our response to this Biblical question? I am afraid too often it is a forlorn and weary response.

Ask the Christian layman if he is his brother's keeper and he will say, yes I support foreign missions, I give to the Red Cross. Or ask any of us and though the answer would be in the affirmative it would be with a sigh of resignation. You see, we so often interpret this question in terms of materials, money, etc. Now let us consider this question in a broader and deeper sense.

I—Am I my brother's keeper? Yes, I am keeper of one of his most prized possessions, his good name. Take away our luxuries and conveniences and we can still make a go of it. But take away our good name and we are dealt a staggering blow. As human beings we will do anything to keep our good name. But have you thought that your good name is not in your hands alone? It is true that you build your good name and you maintain it by your good conduct. But in a vital sense our good name is in the hands of others. I am a minister and character references come to my desk for my reference; something may depend on a good reference or a bad one. A store has an employee who wished to change work, the future for the individual may depend on the good reference or the lack of it. We hold great power over one another through the power of judgment. We need to be reminded of Jesus' words "Judge not."

II—Again this is a vital question in the realm of friendships. Friendship is a priceless bond we hold in trust. The most heartbroken people I have met have been people who have had their friendship violated or betrayed. Some people pride themselves on saying or doing what they please regardless of the hurt to others. They think they are knocking on the doors of freedom, but in reality they are knocking at the gates of hell.

III—We are our brother's keeper in the light of faith of humanity. Why do we believe in the human race in spite of all man's evil doings? Why are they entitled to our respect and cooperation? Because of the many men and women who have crossed our pathways and have exemplified in their own lives the dignity of man.

You and I are salesmen today of a vital commodity which is becoming very scarce, the dignity of man. We advertise it every time we meet a fellow human being, whether on the street, in the home or in the churches. Our sales talk is our kindness, honesty, neighborliness towards others. Yes, we are our brother's keeper.

Tracy, memorial chairman, and George A. Caswell, past exalted ruler, who gave the eulogy.

Home Sewage Seminar To Open Today

Sessions To End Tomorrow Night

A two-night seminar on household sewage disposal systems to be conducted by the Allegany County Health Department will begin tonight with a session from 7 until 10 o'clock in the department's Union Street training center.

Henry Shillp of the Division of Sanitary Engineering of the State Health Department will present a talk on soils necessary for household sewage disposal systems. Allen T. Clapp and Frank McHenry, both representatives of the Veterans' Administration, will discuss financing of such disposal systems.

J. B. Dowling, chief of the sanitation section of the County Health Department, will preside at the 7-to-10 o'clock sessions tonight and tomorrow night. He arranged the seminar program in conjunction with Dr. Winter R. Frantz, county health officer.

The program will include discussions on individual household sewage, a film on the principles, operation, design and maintenance of septic tanks, a film on appraising soil and soil absorption systems, a briefing on the designs of soil absorption and filter systems and a film which shows approved methods of construction of a typical household sewage treatment system.

Dowling stressed that the seminar is open to all plumbers, installers of septic tanks and home contractors.

1,200 Oak Wilt Trees Found In W.Va. Survey

Nearby Counties Find Fewer Diseased

Approximately 1,200 oak wilt trees were found and safely processed in West Virginia during the three-month inspection period of the annual oak wilt survey, according to John T. Johnson, West Virginia's commissioner of agriculture.

Mr. Johnson said it was necessary to fly 424 hours and to spend 12,270 man hours in ground scouting to locate the diseased trees. The past summer's survey covered 67 per cent of the state as compared with 54 per cent in 1955. Approximately 10 per cent of the state was covered the second time, as compared with around two per cent in 1955. Five counties were found infested for the first time.

The commissioner cited a number of conclusions from the 1956 survey:

First, it is impossible to conduct a survey of the state and eliminate all oak wilt trees with funds appropriated. The objective will not be realized until they are expanded.

Second, Mr. Johnson reported that oak wilt is more firmly entrenched in a wider area of the state than was realized six months ago.

Third, it is impossible to find all the oak wilt trees with only one survey each season.

Fourth, during the past two years' surveys it has been established definitely that oak wilt is beginning to take a noticeable toll in some wood lots. Several sites have been located where dozens of trees have died and are dying in just a few acres.

Johnson emphasized that not all of the survey's results need to be considered on the black side. Within a three-mile radius of Seneca Rocks in Pendleton County there were 12 new oak wilt trees found in 1956. Back in 1954 28 trees were discovered in the same area, and 16 trees in 1955.

The number of oak wilt trees found this year in Hampshire, Mineral and Pendleton counties was considerably less than the number found in 1955. There were only two active oak wilt trees found in Monongalia County this past summer.

Symphony To Rehearse

Following the repeat performance last week at Frostburg State Teachers College of its first program of the season, the Cumberland Civic Symphony Orchestra will begin rehearsals Tuesday night at 8 o'clock at the LaWale Fire Hall for its second program of the season.

Wilton Sykes, now in his second season as conductor of the orchestra, said that about 10 once-weekly rehearsals face the local musicians in preparation for the February concert in the Allegany High School auditorium.

Nearly 600 spectators heard the orchestra's first concert November 20 at Allegany. It was repeated last Tuesday for a Frostburg audience.

A program with emphasis on popular music interspersed with classical selections will be presented by the orchestra again in February. Interested musicians who would like to join the orchestra in preparation for the February concert are invited by Mr. Sykes to attend the Tuesday night rehearsals.

About 95 per cent attendance has been maintained by the orchestra in its Tuesday night rehearsals. Mr. Sykes said the local orchestra, the only Maryland symphony outside of Baltimore city, is planning a concert in another city of the state this winter.

To Hold Rehearsal

The Allegany Homemakers Chorus will hold rehearsal this evening at 7 o'clock at Central YMCA fiesta room.

Much Out-State Traffic Checked On Md. Roads

Throughout Maryland generally out-of-state cars account for 28 per cent of all passenger car traffic, according to statistics compiled by the State Roads Commission's Traffic Division.

These figures further disclose that 31 per cent of the commercial vehicles counted on Maryland highways are from out-of-state.

On five of the 26 highways checked by the SRC there are more out-of-state passenger cars than those registered locally. Nearest to Allegany County of these five roads is U. S. 340 at the Potomac River near Harpers Ferry. Others are U. S. 301 south of Waldorf, near the Potomac Toll Bridge; U. S. 13 north of Salisbury, near the Delaware line; U. S. 40 near Bush River, east of Baltimore, and U. S. 50 at the Patuxent River, west of Annapolis.

This unusually high proportion of out-of-state traffic is attributed to two factors: (1) Maryland is a "corridor state" on the direct and unavoidable path of north-south Eastern Seaboard travel; and (2) Maryland is a relatively small state whose borders touch Pennsylvania, Delaware, Virginia and West Virginia as well as the District of Columbia.

The State Roads Commission maintains 26 permanent traffic counter stations in the state where traffic volumes are recorded the year round. Two of the stations are in Allegany County. One is along U. S. 40 east of Clarysville and the other on Maryland 36 at Midland.

Statistics for the Allegany County stations place the Clarysville spot close to the state average in the percentage of "foreign" traffic counted during 1955. However, only nine per cent of the vehicles counted on Route 36 were in the "foreign" classification.

Many "Foreign" Cars
The state averages show that 61 per cent of the machines counted were local passenger vehicles, 23 per cent "foreign" passenger cars, 11 per cent local commercial vehicles and five per cent "foreign" commercial vehicles.

Figures compiled at the station near Clarysville show the average daily traffic to have been 8,064 vehicles. Fire Escape Laws Needed, Say Firemen

Association Acts On Creek Pollution

Legislative action to amend and improve existing laws governing fire escapes on public and other buildings was discussed yesterday at a meeting of the Allegany-Garrett Volunteer Firemen's Association held in the Bloomington Fire Hall.

George F. Comp, of Deer Park, association president, said the secretary was instructed to contact state senators and House of Delegates members of Allegany and Garrett counties to see if a joint meeting can be arranged. If the legislators can agree on a place and date Comp said the firemen will present their ideas on this and other legislation. Officers of the association and members of the association's legislative committee will attend the meeting.

Mr. Comp named a committee to contact Dr. Winter R. Frantz, to determine if the Health Department can do something to prevent what the firemen called the continuing and increasing pollution of Georges Creek. Firemen from Shaft Company appealed to the association for help in getting something done to keep refuse, garbage and debris from being tossed into the creek. Mr. Comp named, by unanimous motion, Jack Eichhorn of Lonaconing, himself, David Kirk of Barton, and Francis Fatkin of Clarysville to serve on this committee.

Committee To Protest

A committee was appointed to draw a resolution protesting the manner in which state dues were raised. The committee includes William A. Wilson, Midland; Nelson W. Russler, Chapel Hill; Felix Foote, Lonaconing; Harry DeHaven, Baltimore Pike, and David Kirk, Barton.

Alvin Rankin, chairman of the muscular dystrophy drive for the association, announced that all companies should collect and turn in their coin containers immediately. He noted that several units have already reported. Westernport raised $105.41, plus a $10 contribution from the company, he said. The Friendly Bible Class at Eckhart Methodist Church sent the firemen a check for $12 for the drive.

Homer Ambrose, secretary of the association's insurance committee, reported that 57 pieces of equipment from 26 member companies are now covered under the joint insurance program.

Charles Crawford, chairman of the carnival clearance committee, announced that dates have been agreed upon for carnivals sponsored by two fire companies. The week ending June 30 has been assigned to Lonaconing and the week ending August 10 has been assigned to McCoolle.

Resolution Adopted

Rankin, who served as chairman of Fire Prevention Week, said additional companies have reported on their activities during the week. Cresaptown and Barton reported yesterday.

A committee brought in a resolution which was adopted, covering the manner in which parade prize money is distributed at firemen's parades. The resolution provides that the host company to a convention must file the total sum of parade prize money with the parade committee prior to the event. The parade committee will make the distribution to winners. There had been complaints in the past that some hose companies had failed to pay all the prize winners.

There were 19 companies represented and all association officers were present. The association has 31 member units in the two counties.

The ladies auxiliary of Bloomington Company served a dinner after the business session.
